

IAS Wednesday Morning Staff Meeting
23 October 1974

1. Mr. Allen reported on the Executive Council Meeting he attended 22 October 1974:

a. Senator Javitz has received the tapes on the statements made by Ramsey Clark criticizing the US war effort during his visit to Hanoi. Mr. Javitz intends to use the tapes to counter Clark's campaign for governor of New York state. The Agency had no choice in the matter, since the Freedom of Information Act requires that such unclassified information be provided on request.

STATINTL

c. NBC will have camera crews in the headquarter's building on the afternoon of 22 October taking background footage for use in a news broadcast. Their treatment in this regard is the same as that for CBS who had done the same thing earlier.

d. An article in the Scientific American magazine by the wife of Gunnar Myrdahl proposing an international commission to verify disarmament settlements has caught Mr. Colby's eye. Mr. Colby has asked Carl Duckett to develop a CIA position paper on the subject of both an international commission and of national commissions which could serve as "the conscience" of their respective countries. Mr. Colby is interested in the intelligence aspects of such commissions, including questions of how photography might be declassified and distributed to them. Mr. Colby wants an article prepared for the Intelligence Studies which would discuss things intelligence has done to prevent wars. This would include activities such as disengagement monitoring. Any office having nominees to prepare such an article should advise [REDACTED]

e. Mr. Proctor noted the article in Aviation Week, which leaked a number of "hold" items. The article discusses Soviet violations of the Salt agreement, particularly their efforts at concealment, development of a mobile anti-ballistic missile system, etc. The article notes that defense and state are still at odds over Salt strategy. Mr. Colby is upset about the leaks.

f. Mr. Proctor requested that the offices submit a list of outside consultants and experts with who them have contact, including contractors but excluding procurement activities. (IAS will submit a negative reply Friday)

g. General Sam Wilson spoke recently at the Air War College, and was impressed with the level of interest in intelligence community matters as reflected in student questions.

There will be a Career Panel meeting at 0900.

He will brief the Intelligence & World Affairs Course this afternoon and the DDI Orientation course at 1100-1215 tomorrow.
